INSTRUCTIONS HERE; FOOD BY MAIL

MARYVILLE POSTOFFICE ALLOTTED A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF THESE FOODSTUFFS

PRICE LIST RECEIVED

Parties Interested Can Get Necessary Information by Calling at the Postoffice

The postoffice received this morning full instructions about the distribution of the surplus army foodstuffs. The War Department has worked out a plan by which a certain amount of foodstuffs will be allotted to each office. Price lists of foodstuffs available for sale have been received and persons interested can get the information necessary by applying at the postoffice.

All orders from consumers must be accompanied by the cash, which must include the total of the order and parcel post charges. Consumers must order in writing and itemize the foodstuffs desired so that the postmasters may readily determine the exact charge to be made.

The parcel post weight limit, in the case of these foodstuffs and such other surplus supplies, is increased to 125 pounds ,on which postage at the parcel post rates now in effect should be computed. For example, the postage on 125 pounds from St. Louis, the supply depot for Missouri, is $2.54.

Should there be insufficient supplies to meet the demand, those consumers who fail to receive foodstuffs should be given a refund of the amount paid as soon as possible, or the proper amount should there be a shortage of a part of his order.

Material which the consumer claims is damaged or spoiled will be replaced by the Zone Surplus Property Officer upon affidavit of the consumer countersigned by the postmaster.

Each postmaster may forward requisitions to the Zone Surplus Property Officer so long as the amount of each item appearing on the list allotted to his office is not exhausted, and may receive orders from consumers until he has enough to take up his allotment.

Postmasters may accept orders and cash from one individual representing a group of consumers. In such cases, however, the foodstuffs will be delivered to the individual who orders and pays for them.

POLICE WORKING ON NEW CLUE IN MURDER

The county authorities today are working on another clue to the murder of Howard P. Patterson, which occured Tuesday night at the central school grounds. Prosecuting Attorn- Charles McCaffrey was unable to announce it for publication. Sheriff John Dowden is in St. Joseph today to get three men charged with robbery of the Wm. Bogue residence at Ravenwood and also for the purpose of making an investigation in that city in connection with the Patterson case.

Ruby Blackford and Earl Overton, who were held by the county pending an investigation, returned to St. Joseph last evening, it is stated, after paying the city $59.15, having plead guilty to sleeping together. The other man held in the case was released from jail last evening.

The body of Patterson accompanied by Dr. Temple was taken to Glasgow last night.

Tomorrow they will go to Trenton and thence to Chillicothe, making short stands at the various towns along a route ending at St. Louis.

During their stay in Maryville the balloon men secured five recruits. Grant Kelly, John Baham, Theodore Murray, Hernie Myers, Joseph Kuck. Captain A. C. GAMBLER DRAWS A $26.65 FINE

R. H. MARSH, CONCESSION MAN, ATTEMPTS "CAMOUFLAGE"

"JACK POT" GAME

State Historical Society COLUMBIA

R. H. Ma... a concession man at the fair grounds attempted to use his "kewpie" doll rack stand to camouflage a gambling game yesterday afternoon, which resulted in his appearance before Police Judge Johnson last night and a subsequent fine of $26.65, which he paid.

Early yesterday evening Marshall Claude Stultz became suspicious of the seemingly innocent "doll rack" game and proceeded to investigate. He stood near the stand and discovered that a "jack pot" was being made up at each turn of the wheel in which each of the victims would place 50 cents. A fifteen year old lad dropped $9.50 on the game when Stultz took a hand in the proceedings. He went to the grandstand to find Mayor Garrett, and when he returned with the latter, Marsh had departed, leaving the rack without a proprietor.

The mayor placed Stultz to watch the rack, while a search was instituted for the owner. After waiting about an hour, Stultz saw a form near the end of the midway that looked like the missing man. He went to get him but lost him in the crowd. In the meantime, a woman came to the rack, and took the dolls and wheel away. When Stultz returned it looked like there had been a leak at both ends of the bag.

Mayor Garrett heard of the disappearance of the concession equipment and after questioning a number of neighboring concession people, learned that a woman in a nearby tent had taken the property. This woman was learned to be the wife of Marsh and the latter was found at the rear of the tent painting a sign.

When charged with the gambling game, Marsh firmly asserted his innocence and told the authorities that he was a sign painter and had never been connected with the concession game. When he saw that this plea would not be taken by the police he changed his tone and attempted to bribe the mayor into letting him off. The tears of his wife and his silver tongued oratory had little effect on the Mayor and Marshall, however, and he was brought up town and hailed before the police court.

The police are keeping an eagle eye on the chance games being run at the fair and are co-operating with the management to protect the public from petty grafters.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AT FAIR GROUND RACES

Jesse Wynn of Gentry County Bruised and Cut When Struck by Running Horse

Jesse Wynn, son of Bill Wynn, living east of Oxford in Gentry county, was slightly hurt at the fair grounds yesterday when Joe Nugent, one of the horses in the five-eighths mile running race, became unmanageable and broke away into the crowd lining the track at the southeast turn. Ben Herron, the jockey, was thrown from the horse but was not hurt.

Medical Sergeant Denyce of the balloon corps station on the ground, administered first aid to the injured boy and he was later attended by Dr. Williamson of Gentry. Injuries amounted only to a few bruises and minor cuts about the face.

THE LARGEST CROWD EVER SEEN THERE

BALLOON STARTS FLIGHT

What is said by many to have been the largest crowd that ever attended a fair in Maryville thronged the midway, filled the grandstand and other seats to their capacity, stood around both sides of the track the length of the course and dotted the field inside the course. The number of people is variously estimated from 15,000 to 18,000.

The airplane flights were a great drawing crowd. And the people got to see more in the way of airplane flying than they were guaranteed or paid for. Lieut. Burke made a flight shortly after 5 o'clock in which he performed the various tricks that expert birdmen are accustomed to.

Lieut. Hyde began carrying passengers about 6 o'clock and was in the air except for returning to the ground to let one passenger out and another in until it got dark. After the first one or two passengers went up it seemed like everyone on the grounds wanted to make the next trip. Lieut. Hyde secured a book and began listing passengers on a waiting list.

The army balloon which had tried to get away earlier in the day finally pulled up all the stakes attached to the guy ropes and started on a heavenward climb. It happened to catch on the edge of a motor car top just as it started and tore a large hole in the side, which let the air out and the balloon settled to the ground. The high wind wihch prevailed during the afternoon was responsible for the balloon's unscheduled ascension.

The races were featured yesterday by a pace which lowered the track record when Tiberus in the free-for-all pace covered the half in 1:04 and the mile in 2:10¼. The slowest heat of the free-for-all pace was 2:11¼.

The detailed results of the free-for-all pace were: Tiberus, Fishbaum & Co., Fort Worth, Texas, 1, 1, 1; Carlos Patch, Wm. Arnold, Savannah, 2, 2, 2; Tanner Miller, L. E. Miller, Horton, Kans., 3, 4, 4; Shadeline, G. W. Saars, Omaha, 4, 3, 3; Dan Gentry, F. S. Dysert, Savannah, 5, 5, 5. Time 2:11¼, 2:10¼, 2:11.

The second race, a 2:20 trot, went as follows: The Stroller, Stell, Texas, 1, 1, 1; Alparnell, Jack Lewis, Maple, Texas, 2, 4, 4; Lord Aubrey, ...3, 3 ,3; Katie L., Joseph Slatshaw, Wilson, Kans., 4, 2, 2. Time 2:24, 2:21, 2:21.

The third race was a special half mile for pacers and trotters. They finished as follows: Riley Boy, Hilkerbrink, St. Joseph, 1, 1; Rodney, Segall, St. Joseph, 2, 2; and Maxo, Oto Theisen, St. Joseph, 3, 2. Time 1:09, 1:08.

The fourth race was a special one-half mile running race. The order in which they crossed under the wire: The Mouse, Richards (Wheatly), first; Lola A., Arthur (Washer), second; Scoval, McClain (White), third; Bessie Bright, Sails (Wilson), fourth; and Bluemine, Landers (Hanner), fifth. Time 50 seconds.

The last race was a five-eighths mile running race. How they finished: Gordon Roberts, Goodpasture (Cummins), first; Good Enough, McClain (White), second; Hattie Wildo, McClain (White), third; and Inro, Brackett (Reese), fourth. Time 1:04.

MANY TAKE FLIGHT IN HYDE'S BIPLANE

A CHARGE OF $10 MADE FOR TAKING UP PASSENGERS

A MOST EXCITING SPORT

Miss Ruth Reuillard Was a Passenger This Morning and Says She Wasn't a Bit Frightened

"Have you been up yet?" This is the question that you hear on all sides at the fair grounds today. The newest and most exciting of sports has already tempted several fair goers to part with the $10 necessary to take them for a spin in Lt. J. V. Hyde's biplane, the "Dragon Fly." Every one who goes up says that it is the original "thrill that comes once in a life time"

If you should be fortunate enough to make a flight either today or tomorrow your preparations will be almost as simple as going for a spin in the "Flivver". First you part with a ten dollar bill, and in return receive a small ticket. The ticket states that you assume all responsibility for whatever happens, and that the aviator will not be responsible for any accidents. With ticket properly signed you get into your flying togs. These consist of a Norfolk jacket, a helmet, and a pair of goggles. The hardest job of all is now getting into the passengers seat which is just behind the motor. The mechanician is now strapping you in and giving you final instructions. The pilot climbs into his seat behind you, and his helper is at the propellor. "Contact," cries the helper. "Contact," repeats the pilot as he snaps on the switch. The next thing you realize is a cyclone of air in your face and a noise like an artillery battery in action. You are off down the field and before you realize it you are flying.

The plane circles the field a couple of times to get altitude and then starts on its sight-seeing trip over Maryville. Before you know it you are circling over the College and starting back. When you again come over the fair grounds, it has dwindled in size for you are now about fifteen hundred feet above the ground. Lt. Hyde throttles down the motor and gives you a good measure in your descent, by treating you to a few nose spins, wing turns, and "falling leafs". By the time you have figured out whether the earth is above you or below, you are quietly sitting at the starting place and the mechanic is helping you out of your seat.

The first person to make flight yesterday was John W. Price, Jr., Peck Gex, E. T. Hutchison, Warren Spoor, Lt. Neely of the Balloon Corps, and Miss Mary Rose Brady, also made the trip.

The first passenger this morning, and the second lady, was Miss Ruth Reuillard, "I wasn't a bit frightened," said Miss Reuillard, "all I could do was giggle." James F. Young, 66 years old, a farmer living about seven miles west of Maryville, was the second passenger. Others who went were Simeon Wright, J. E. Cottrell and Ray Baublitts.

SOLDIER BOY THROWN FROM MOTORCYCLE AND INJURED

Tony Terra of Balloon Company Has Collar Bone Broken—Accident at Corner of Seventh and Main

Tony Terra, one of the soldier lads of the balloon company, received a fractured collar bone and severe bruises and scratches about 7 o'clock last night when he was thrown from a motorcycle.

The accident occurred at the corner of Seventh and Main streets. Terra made a turn on his motorcycle at an acute angle in order to avoid colliding with a motor car and upset the motorcycle, hurling him to the pavement. He was rushed to the Physicians and Surgeons building where he was given medical aid by Dr. Frank Wallis.

The injured boy is resting nicely at a tent on the fair grounds where he was removed after having medical attention. Capt. McKinley, commanding officer, stated that Terra would be sent to Omaha tomorrow.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Wallis, Jr., have leased a suite of rooms at the W. A. Miller residence on South Main street, and will be at home there after the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Miles left this morning for Rock Port to spend the week end with relatives.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you never will succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has no equal as a blood cleanser, scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store and get on the right treatment to-day. If you want special medical advice, address Medical Director, 49 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

FAMOUS PEACE TREATIES

By H. IRVING KING

(Copyright, 1919, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

THE PEACE OF WESTPHALIA, 1648.

A Religious Upheaval That Lasted for Almost a Lifetime.

This gigantic conflict known as the Thirty Years' war was the longest war that has afflicted mankind, at least since the dawn of modern history; though that series of wars between France and England which extended from 1338 to 1453 is sometimes inaccurately referred to as the "Hundred Years' War."

The Thirty Years' war is often called a religious war, but it was a war in which religion was made the handmaid of politicians and the excuse of ambitious princes; the mightiest kingdom on the Protestant side was the Catholic nation of France, swayed by Cardinal Richelieu, and the Lutheran elector of Saxony did not hesitate to ally himself with the oppressor of the Bohemian Protestants.

First Overt Act of the War.

The story that the first overt act of war arose from two soldiers of different nationalities approaching a well to get a drink and getting into a fight as to who should first have the bucket, Tassoni, the Italian poet, has embalmed in his mock-heroic poem, "The Rape of the Bucket"—if he did not invent it. At any rate the stage of Europe was set for war and war came.

In May of 1618 the Bohemian Protestants rose in rebellion and the conflagration rapidly spread over continental Europe. Men were born, grew to manhood and died knowing no world but a world at war. A man of fifty could only remember that it was before he attained his majority that there had been no war; war had come to seem the normal state of the world. In this war were made the military reputations of Gustavus Adolphus, king of Sweden, Tilly, Wallenstein, Turenne and Conde. Central Europe was the battleground and the fortunes of war favored first one side and then the other. It would take volumes to detail the campaigns and battles of this war and its shifting politics. In the long run the Protestant side, through the fighting power of the Swedes and the might of Catholic France, got the best of it.

Meantime Europe was becoming utterly exhausted in men, money and commerce and industry. The pope suggested negotiations for a peace and in 1641 Louis XIII of France signed the preliminaries for a conference. But Cardinal Mazarin, who had succeeded Richelieu upon the death of that great statesman, did not desire peace until he had further humbled some of the Catholic powers, especially Spain.

Peace Delegates Met at Munster.

However, three years after Louis had signed the preliminaries peace delegates met at Munster. The congress accomplished nothing, the delegates spending their time in squabbles over matters of precedence and etiquette. It was hard work to get them to enter a common council chamber for fear one envoy would enter the room before the other, or to sit at anything but a round table for fear one should sit at the head of it. Their retainers fought in the streets for the right of way. The conference was removed to Osnabruck with like results. The war still going on, the fluctuations of battle caused a fluctuation of demands on the part of the envoys. The house of Austria split in two, the emperor desiring the peace for which all central Europe was clamoring, but Spain refusing to treat.

Finally in October of 1648, after four years of negotiation, the treaty known as the Peace of Westphalia was signed at Munster. This treaty put an end to the period of so-called religious wars and also to the supremacy of the house of Austria in Germany. France and Sweden were the principal beneficiaries, the latter receiving large German possessions with three votes in the diet, as well as an indemnification in money. France was confirmed in the possession of Verdun, Toul and Metz and most of Alsace. Germany was left in a horrible state materially; but had won liberty of conscience and a promise that laws, taxes and peace or war should be decided upon only by a free assembly of all the "estates" of the empire.

Germans Retain Haughty War Spirit in Industry and Trade

By Alfred G. Anderson

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—So far from being pleased with the influx of sorely needed foreign goods as the result of lifting the blockade, German industrial men are raising the cry for government prohibition of foreign merchandise imports, or a protective tariff that will keep the merchandise out of Germany.

The same industrial men, incidentally, seize every opportunity to put in a claim for German equality in the rest of the world's markets. It is a case of Germany for the Germans and the rest of the world for the Germans as well.

Hans Goslar, an economic expert, writing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, tries to explain where the shoe pinches, so to speak, by taking American shoes as typical of the "distress" the removal of the blockade will bring upon Germany.

Herr Goslar, dexterously ignoring the cry of unshod millions of his countrymen, purports to be exceedingly worried by large quantities of American shoes said to be stored in neutral countries, awaiting shipment to Germany, where, he admits, they can be sold considerably cheaper than German shoes. This sounds plausible, considering that German shoes, at present, cost anywhere from $60 to $100 the pair. Herr Goslar writes:

"The consequence of importing American shoes on a large scale would be that our shoe factories, which operate at heavier expense and at present under great difficulties, must close and throw their tens of thousands of workmen on the street.

"Our efforts, therefore, must be aimed at importing leather instead of shoes and thus enable our factories to give German workers employment by manufacturing shoes at home.

"If we apply the principle of shoes and leather to other important industries it is evident that we must endeavor first of all to procure raw materials from abroad. Manufactured goods, generally speaking, we can import only when they do not harm domestic industries by competition."

If the idea has struck Herr Goslar at all that his tens of thousands of German shoe workers, instead of being "thrown on the street," might very well be employed in turning out German shoes and still be wearing cheaper American shoes until the first batch of the home product can be put on the market, he carefully conceals it. Nor does it occur to him that an immediate lowering of the cost of living through foreign imports tends to reduce wages to a reasonable basis and generally cut the German cost of production, making German competition in the home market as well as abroad possible as soon as Germany has the goods to sell.

"The textile industry in unoccupied Germany views the future with apprehension," sighs an Essen correspondent of the Deutsche Tages-Zeitung.

The Essen man records regretfully the passing of the demand for German paper cloth and other war fabrics because the merchants can now obtain unlimited quantities of real "peace-time" textiles. Suits, cloth and silks of English and French origin can be had in abundance, at fair prices, much to the delight of the consuming public. But the Essen correspondent fears that England is determined to dominate the German textile market and therefore will withhold raw materials from German manufacturers.

There are other Germans, however, who take a less pessimistic view of the ended blockade, for instance, the wholesale merchants of Frankfort on the Main, who are planning a huge "commercial peace demonstration" in the form of an international exhibition of imports, to be held in October. The entente as well as neutral countries, according to plans, will be invited to exhibit.

Another optimist, who probably expresses official Germany's viewpoint, is Herr Oeser, Prussian minister of communications, who, addressing the Prussian assembly, manifested unqualified delight at the prospect of well-stocked store shelves and lower prices.

The first thing that struck Herr Oeser about the new order of things was the probability of the German government releasing for public consumption vast supplies of commodities that have been held in reserve for the German army and navy. Among other things these supplies include 45,000,000 yards of cloth, enough to furnish new suits for several million Germans.

The industrial barons, who would have the people wear rags and walk on their uppers until German factories have converted imported raw materials into finished articles, will in all probability find a rather indifferent audience.

Stop and Think

For one moment why you stay in the East, and pay big interest or high rent when you can go west and soon own a farm of your own.

The West offers greater opportunities to any man than the East and especially to the poor man or man of reasonable means. I started in this land business last fall and have made a success of it by doing an honest business and by selling on reasonable commissions. My business has grown until I have had to have a partner, so Mr. Newt Morgan of Parnell, Mo., is going in with me. I have sold three thousand six hundred acres of land; have just closed a deal on one thousand and fifty acres at forty-five thousand dollars.

This has been the dryest year ever known to the oldest settlers and yet it is wonderful to see what crops we have raised. Most of the corn will make 20 to 30 bushels to the acre. We have had plenty of rain since the third of July and all late crops will be good. I am located at Carpenter, Wyo., in the southeastern corner of the State and have lots of land listed with me for sale now. I have farms of all sizes from one hundred acre farms to five thousand acre ranches and I know I can save any man money that wants to buy a farm or ranch. So don't fail to see me before buying. I have sold eleven thousand six hundred dollars worth of hogs since last October. I fattened them from the corn that I raised last year on one hundred and thirty-five acres. My last car load of sixty-two head brought four thousand and two dollars. I now have nine hundred and sixty acres of land. When I left Maryville, Mo., three years ago last October I was not worth five hundred dollars, today I am worth at least twelve thousand dollars. Now judge for yourself whether this is a good country to make money in or not. Then come and have a talk with me at the Nodaway County Fair and see samples of what we have raised this year, then make up your mind to come back with me and buy a farm or ranch and you will make the best move that you ever made in your life. For further information se me at the Fair August 11 to 16.

JUDGING EVENTS A BIG ATTRACTION LAST NIGHT

Immense Crowd Surpasses Afternoon Attendance — High Class Entries and Entertainment Drawing Card

The record breaking crowd of yesterday afternoon was surpassed at the fair grounds last night and according to Judge Haneey the largest number of people who have ever been within the grounds were present at 9 o'clock. Every seat in the grandstand was filled, and those who were unable to secure places there crowded the fence along the entire home stretch. Within the track, cars were parked in a solid bank back 50 yards from the fence.

The program last night was in accord with the high class bill which the management has been offering during the week.

The first event on the horse judging bill last night was the three-year old harness class. Billy Lee, owned by James Tapp, of Savannah was awarded the blue ribbon with Miss Emma, owned by Colonel Mundy of Mound City second. There were three horses entered in this event, but shortly before the judging, Bess Frolic, owned by J. W. Elliosn, of Savannah was sold and was scratched from the list.

In the five-gait event Regina Chief owned by James Tapp was first, Red Wing, Dr. Stiner of St. Joseph, second, and Bugle Boy, Colonel Mundy, third.

The runabout event attracted considerable interest. Marion Bleese, owned by James Tapp was first, Bugle Boy, owned by Colonel Mundy was second, and Red Wing owned by Dr. Stiner was third.

Following the judging events, Billy Lee, the educated high school horse owned by J. H. Tapp, of Savannah, was again exhibited. Although the exhibition was given late, many interested persons remained to see the work of the famous three-year-old. Without the band muisc, he went through his various acts of marching, pivoting, turkey trotting and waltzing.

Charles Schrader, of Savannah was in charge of the judging event slast night, and in addition to these features the regular acrobatic entertainment was given.

HENRY FOR GET 6 CENTS DAMAGES FROM THE TRIBUNE

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 15—Attorneys for the Chicago Tribune, it was considered certain today, will accept without a contest, the verdict of six cents damages awarded Henry Ford by the jury, which heard a prolonged and bitterly fought Ford-Tribune suit. No motions or appeals were made after a verdict was returned.

Mount Clemens, Aug. 15.—A jury last night awarded Henry Ford 6 cents damages against the Chicago Tribune for calling him an anarchist.

At 8 o'clock last night Bailiff Kelley telephoned Judge Tucker that the jury was ready to report.

The jury, which for three months has been hearing testimony and arguments in the million dollar libel suit, was locked up at 9:55 a. m.

Judge James G. Tucker had instructed the jury that "the right of fair comment is expected in the case of Mr. Ford, because his position as a great employer of labor and entry as a propaganist into the discussion of the preparedness question made him a public character.

The judge held that a newspaper has no greater privileges in making comment than has an individaul.

The jury was instructed further to dismiss the case against the Solomon News company which, on a purely technical charge that it distributed in Michigan 208 copies of the Tribune issue of June 23, 1916, containing the alleged libelous editorial headed "Ford is an Anarchist," was made a co-defendant.

The court room was crowded while the judge was charging the jury.

The judge instructed that plaintiff's charges of pro-Germanism against the Tribune and of a selfish interest in advocating intervention in Mexico, had not been proven and the jury need not consider it.

ST LOUIS RAILWAY MEN ASK WAGE INCREASE.

Union Files Brief with State Public Service Commission; Say Pay Is Insufficient

Jefferson City, Aug. 15.—The brief for the St. Louis street car men's union asking for an increase in wages has just been filed with the State Public Service Commission by Edward W. Foristel, attorney for the union.

The brief was to have been filed last week, but was delayed because of the mass of evidence to be prepared. Chairman Busby of the commission says it will be several days before the finding of the commission will be announced.

The brief says that the receiver, Rolla Wells, has admitted the truth of the evidence submitted and the contention of the men in regard to living costs, and that there only remains for the commission to determine the amount of the wage award and the question of time and a half for overtime. Attorneys for the receiver did not subscribe to all the contentions of the men on the points at the hearing in St. Louis last week.

The brief declares that every man is entitled to a living wage and that bare allowance is not enough. There must be sufficient for recreation, education and culture, the brief says.

The brief says the men are not demanding a straight eight-hour day, but are asserting their right to such a day. They are willing for the present to work longer hours, the brief says, but they assert that their pay is insufficient for the present long hours.

The brief gives an elaborate tabulation of wages and living conditions. It is said that there are more than 80,000 members of affiliated labor organizations in St. Louis who, with their families, furnish more than half the revenue of the United Railways, and that these will not complain if fares are raised to give the carmen sufficient wages.

AN ARTIFICIAL COAL SHORTAGE IN ST. LOUIS.

United States District Attorney Hensley Says Operators Will Attempt To Boose Prices.

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—The coal operators in this city and nearby districts are attempting to create an artificial shortage, so that any price demanded of consumers this winter will be paid, is the opinion of United States District Attorney Hensley.

Hensley says he is conducting an investigation and, if disclosures warrant, drastic action will be taken.

"I have received many complaints from people who say they have been unable to have coal delivered, although they bought it some time ago," Hensley continues. "My inquiry among the coal mines, as far as it has gone, has shown that many of them are idle. The condition generally has made me believe that an attempt is being made now to create an artificial shortage of coal."

Hensley says that an investigation of high rents in this city, with rentals steadily advancing, had concinced them that real estate dealers and property owners have got together to obtain higher rentals. He says this angle of his investigation would be gone into thoroughly.

The district attorney says that none of his investigations have progressed to a point where warrants could be issued, but that several conditions that apparently warranted drastic action had come to his attention. Some of these conditions might not be under his jurisdiction, Hensley says.

Victor Hugo for Japanese Readers.

The works of Victor Hugo have been translated into Japanese, to be published in a monthly series of 12 volumes beginning with June. "The translators," says the Herald of Asia, "include literary men of known standing, whose names are a guarantee of conscientious work. Many of the great French author's works have already been translated into Japanese, one of these, "Les Miserables," having been dramatized by the late Genichiro Fukuchi; but this is the first time a translation of Hugo's complete works has been attempted. The appearance of the new publications will confer a great boon upon the public, who evince a strong hunger for inspirations of the sort supplied by the illustrious French author.

Everybody Agrees With Us Nisco Spreader Is Best

Since we began telling in the public press about the Nisco Manure Spreader, our store has been a central point of interest with farmers for miles around.

And to a man, they all agree that the "Nisco" is the most practical spreader they ever saw. Even men who have used other spreaders for years, quickly concede the superiority of the "Nisco."

Now, this is very gratifying to us because we took the Nisco Agency only after personal investigation, and this unanimity of approval confirms our good judgment. There isn't a doubt that the will handle manure—fresh or stored—easily, economically and efficiently. A chain conveyor carries the manure to two cylinders, revolving one over the other, where it is thoroughly fined and pulverized. Then, swiftly revolving steel paddles distribute this fine manure over a strip wider than the wheel base of the machine itself—actually across three corn rows. The "Nisco" will spread 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18 loads per acre according as the feed lever is set and do it evenly. It is built low; mounted on wide tire wheels, and strong enough from kingbolt to drive wheels to stand steady hard service for a lifetime. Never clogs nor strains a team unduly.

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR THIRTY YEARS

"Tanlac Is Grandest Medicine On Earth" Says Kansas City Woman.

"For the first time in thirty years" said Mrs. M. Buckingham, residing at 2438 Kensington avenue, Kansas City, Missouri, in an interview, recently, "I am able to eat without suffering afterwards, and I can't sit down to the table without feeling thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Mrs. Buckingham is the wife of W. J. Buckingham, the well known carriage and auto maker. He has been with the Russell Carriage Company for twenty-three years. Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham have lived in Kansas City for more than thirty years and are highly respected by all who know them.

"What I would eat caused me pain," she continued, "and if I went without eating there was an awful gnawing sensation in my stomach, so I just suffered nearly all the time. The gas on my stomach affected me so that I could hardly breathe and my heart acted so peculiar that I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble. I could not rest and would get so nervous I did not know what to do. At times I was so bad off that I should have been in bed and just dragged around at my work. I was so dizzy I could scarcely keep my balance and couldn't stoop over without falling.

"Well, nothing ever helped me except just for the time being, until I began taking Tanlac and that's saying a good deal for it seems to me I had tried everything. For a while I thought Tanlac was going to disappoint me, too, for Inever felt much better until I had finished my third bottle, but since that time I have improved rapidly. I can eat just anything now and since my food digests properly and the gas has stopped forming on my stomach I never have have palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath or a pain. My nerves are almost normal and my housework is no longer a burden, but a pleasure to me. Really, I am feeling better than I have since my troubles began and I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine on eaarth."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. W. L. Carpenter acquired the Fred Haynes 160 southwest of town the first of the week at $175 per acre.

Mr. Haynes then purchased the W. T. Brown 160 acres paying Mr. Brown $225 an acre for it.

Watch It Grow

A FORCE OF VITAL IMPORTANCE THAT IS GROWING, AND DEVELOPING A MARVELOUS MOMENTUM.

Advertising Has an Accumulative Effect that increases in value with every advertisement run. Your ad that appears today or tomorrow may make enough direct sales to much more than pay for it but its greatest value is the good will it is building up for you.

Big advertisers everywhere are more and more recognizing this factor and plan their advertising campaigns accordingly.

Before answering the question bear in mind that advertising is an investment—not an expense. It is an investment in the sure results of human nature. Some merchants advertise in a hit and miss fashion, never knowing exactly what they are doing and fool themselves by charging various and sundry donations to advertising. These are the merchants who say advertising doesn't pay. Then the other kind set aside a certain percentage of their gross sales—anywhere from 1½ per cent to 3 per cent—for advertising. They spend the appropriation wisely and consider their advertising too important to neglect. They would no more allow their advertising to stop than they would their insurance policy to lapse. These are the merchants who know advertising does pay and pays big.

Is this the reason for the ever increasing popularity among the merchants, of the DEMOCRAT-FORUM'S ADVERTISING SPACE? It goes into the homes of 3500 people every evening, the great majority of these homes being in these merchants trade territory. AND THIS IS AN A. B. C. CIRCULATION. IT IS ONE OF THE EIGHTEEN MISSOURI PAPERS WHO OFFER TO ITS ADVERTISERS A GUARANTEED AND AUDITED A. B. C. CIRCULATION. This fact alone means a great deal to the shrewd merchant who is investing in advertising space.

PRICE LIST RECEIVED

The postoffice received this morning full instructions about the distribution of the surplus army foodstuffs. The War Department has worked out a plan by which a certain amount of foodstuffs will be allotted to each office. Price lists of foodstuffs available for sale have been received and persons interested can get the information necessary by applying at the postoffice.

All orders from consumers must be accompanied by the cash, which must include the total of the order and parcel post charges. Consumers must order in writing and itemize the foodstuffs desired so that the postmasters may readily determine the exact charge to be made.

The parcel post weight limit, in the case of these foodstuffs and such other surplus supplies, is increased to 125 pounds ,on which postage at the parcel post rates now in effect should be computed. For example, the postage on 125 pounds from St. Louis, the supply depot for Missouri, is $2.54.

Should there be insufficient supplies to meet the demand, those consumers who fail to receive foodstuffs should be given a refund of the amount paid as soon as possible, or the proper amount should there be a shortage of a part of his order.

Material which the consumer claims is damaged or spoiled will be replaced by the Zone Surplus Property Officer upon affidavit of the consumer countersigned by the postmaster.

Each postmaster may forward requisitions to the Zone Surplus Property Officer so long as the amount of each item appearing on the list allotted to his office is not exhausted, and may receive orders from consumers until he has enough to take up his allotment.

Postmasters may accept orders and cash from one individual representing a group of consumers. In such cases, however, the foodstuffs will be delivered to the individual who orders and pays for them.

POLICE WORKING ON NEW CLUE IN MURDER

The county authorities today are working on another clue to the murder of Howard P. Patterson, which occured Tuesday night at the central school grounds. Prosecuting Attorney Charles McCaffrey was unable to announce it for publication. Sheriff John Dowden is in St. Joseph today to get three men charged with robbery of the Wm. Bogue residence at Ravenwood and also for the purpose of making an investigation in that city in connection with the Patterson case.

Ruby Blackford and Earl Overton, who were held by the county pending an investigation, returned to St. Joseph last evening, it is stated, after paying the city $59.15, having plead guilty to sleeping together. The other man held in the case was released from jail last evening.

The body of Patterson accompanied by Dr. Temple was taken to Glasgow last night.

Men Show Appreciation of Treatment Here in Letter to Secy Pickens of the Commercial Club

After a four day stay in Maryville, the Twelfth Balloon convoy company pulled their stakes at the fair grounds this morning and began on another lap of their recruiting tour. The cavalcade will go from here to Albany where they will remain tonight. Tomorrow they will go to Trenton and thence to Chillicothe, making short stands at the various towns along a route ending at St. Louis.

During their stay in Maryville the balloon men secured five recruits, Grant Kelly, John Baham, Theodore Murray, Hernie Myers, Joseph Kuck. Captain A. C. Hicks, Chris Davis and Hugh Belch. The arrest was made by the St. Joseph authorities on the basis of information given them by Sheriff John Dowden.

It is charged that the men held in custody broke into the Bogue home while no one was at home and secured valuables worth $60 or $70. Sheriff Dowden and Deputy Lee Atherton left this morning for St. Joseph to bring back the three men held for the robbery.

Mrs. S. F. Phares, Mrs. S. C. Bureson and daughters, Hazel and Grace, of Nemaha, ...eb., who have been spending the week with Mrs. Chance's sister, Mrs. Wm. Langan, and family, and attending the fair, will leave tomorrow.

GAMBLER DRAWS A $26.65 FINE

R. H. MARSH, CONCESSION MAN, ATTEMPTS "CAMOUFLAGE"

"JACK POT" GAME

State Historical Society COLUMBIA

R. H. Ma... , a concession man at the fair grounds attempted to use his "kewpie" doll rack stand to camouflage a gambling game yesterday afternoon, which resulted in his appearance before Police Judge Johnson last night and a subsequent fine of $26.65, which he paid.

Early yesterday evening Marshall Claude Stultz became suspicious of the seemingly innocent "doll rack" game and proceeded to investigate. He stood near the stand and discovered that a "jack pot" was being made up at each turn of the wheel in which each of the victims would place 50 cents. A fifteen year old lad dropped $9.50 on the game when Stultz took a hand in the proceedings. He went to the grandstand to find Mayor Garrett, and when he returned with the latter, Marsh had departed, leaving the rack without a proprietor.

The mayor placed Stultz to watch the rack, while a search was instituted for the owner. After waiting about an hour, Stultz saw a form near the end of the midway that looked like the missing man. He went to get him but lost him in the crowd. In the meantime, a woman came to the rack, and took the dolls and wheel away. When Stultz returned it looked like there had been a leak at both ends of the bag.

Mayor Garrett heard of the disappearance of the concession equipment and after questioning a number of neighboring concession people, learned that a woman in a nearby tent had taken the property. This woman was learned to be the wife of Marsh and the latter was found at the rear of the tent painting a sign.

When charged with the gambling game, Marsh firmly asserted his innocence and told the authorities that he was a sign painter and had never been connected with the concession game. When he saw that this plea would not be taken by the police he changed his tone and attempted to bribe the mayor into letting him off. The tears of his wife and his silver tongued oratory had little effect on the Mayor and Marshall, however, and he was brought up town and hailed before the police court.

The police are keeping an eagle eye on the chance games being run at the fair and are co-operating with the management to protect the public from petty grafters.

MOTOR CAR THEFT REPORTED AT PAIR GROUNDS YESTERDAY

A New Dodge Car Belonging to Wm. Pitsenberger is Taken About 5 O'Clock Thursday

A new Dodge automobile was stolen from the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The car was the property of William Pitsenberger of Barnard. No clue has been found yet that would lead to the guilty party.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AT FAIR GROUND RACES

Jesse Wynn of Gentry County Bruised and Cut When Struck by Running Horse

Jesse Wynn, son of Bill Wynn, living east of Oxford in Gentry county, was slightly hurt at the fair grounds yesterday when Joe Nugent, one of the horses in the five-eighths mile running race, became unmanageable and broke away into the crowd lining the track at the southeast turn. Ben Herron, the jockey, was thrown from the horse but was not hurt.

Medical Sergeant Denyce of the balloon corps station on the ground, administered first aid to the injured boy and he was later attended by Dr. Williamson of Gentry. Injuries amounted only to a few bruises and minor cuts about the face.

BALLOON STARTS FLIGHT

What is said by many to have been the largest crowd that ever attended a fair in Maryville thronged the midway, filled the grandstand and other seats to their capacity, stood around both sides of the track the length of the course and dotted the field inside the course. The number of people is variously estimated from 15,000 to 18,000.

The airplane flights were a great drawing crowd. And the people got to see more in the way of airplane flying than they were guaranteed or paid for. Lieut. Burke made a flight shortly after 5 o'clock in which he performed the various tricks that expert birdmen are accustomed to.

Lieut. Hyde began carrying passengers about 6 o'clock and was in the air except for returning to the ground to let one passenger out and another in until it got dark. After the first one or two passengers went up it seemed like everyone on the grounds wanted to make the next trip. Lieut. Hyde secured a book and began listing passengers on a waiting list.

The army balloon which had tried to get away earlier in the day finally pulled up all the stakes attached to the guy ropes and started on a heavenward climb. It happened to catch on the edge of a motor car top just as it started and tore a large hole in the side, which let the air out and the balloon settled to the ground. The high wind wihch prevailed during the afternoon was responsible for the balloon's unscheduled ascension.

The races were featured yesterday by a pace which lowered the track record when Tiberus in the free-for-all pace covered the half in 1:04 and the mile in 2:10¾. The slowest heat of the free-for-all pace was 2:11¼.

The detailed results of the free-for-all pace were: Tiberus, Fishbaum & Co., Fort Worth, Texas, 1, 1, 1; Carlos Patch, Wm. Arnold, Savannah, 2, 2, 2; Tanner Miller, L. E. Miller, Horton, Kans., 3, 4, 4; Shadeline, G. W. Saars, Omaha, 4, 3, 3; Dan Gentry, F. S. Dysert, Savannah, 5, 5, 5. Time 2:11¼, 2:10¾, 2:11.

The second race, a 2:20 trot, went as follows: The Stroller, Stell, Texas, 1, 1, 1; Alparnell, Jack Lewis, Maple, Texas, 2, 4, 4; Lord Aubrey, ... 3, 3 ,3; Katie L., Joseph Slatshaw, Wilson, Kans., 4, 2, 2. Time 2:24, 2:21, 2:21.

The third race was a special half mile for pacers and trotters. They finished as follows: Riley Boy, Hilkerbrink, St. Joseph, 1, 1; Rodney, Segall, St. Joseph, 2, 2; and Maxo, Oto Theisen, St. Joseph, 3, 2. Time 1:09, 1:08.

The fourth race was a special one-half mile running race. The order in which they crossed under the wire: The Mouse, Richards (Wheatly), first; Lola A., Arthur (Washer), second; Scoval, McClain (White), third; Bessie Bright, Sails (Wilson), fourth; and Bluemine, Landers (Hanner), fifth. Time 50 seconds.

The last race was a five-eighths mile running race. How they finished: Gordon Roberts, Goodpasture (Cummins), first; Good Enough, McClain (White), second; Hattie Wildo, McClain (White), third; and Inro, Brackett (Reese), fourth. Time 1:04.

MANY TAKE FLIGHT IN HYDE'S BIPLANE

A CHARGE OF $10 MADE FOR TAKING UP PASSENGERS

A MOST EXCITING SPORT

Miss Ruth Reuillard Was a Passenger This Morning and Says She Wasn't a Bit Frightened

"Have you been up yet?" This is the question that you hear on all sides at the fair grounds today. The newest and most exciting of sports has already tempted several fair goers to part with the $10 necessary to take them for a spin in Lt. J. V. Hyde's biplane, the "Dragon Fly." Every one who goes up says that it is the original "thrill that comes once in a life time."

If you should be fortunate enough to make a flight either today or tomorrow your preparations will be almost as simple as going for a spin in the "Flivver". First you part with a ten dollar bill, and in return receive a small ticket. The ticket states that you assume all responsibility for whatever happens, and that the aviator will not be responsible for any accidents. With ticket properly signed you get into your flying togs. These consist of a Norfolk jacket, a helmet, and a pair of goggles. The hardest job of all is now getting into the passengers seat which is just behind the motor. The mechanician is now strapping you in and giving you final instructions. The pilot climbs into his seat behind you, and his helper is at the propellor. "Contact," cries the helper. "Contact," repeats the pilot as he snaps on the switch. The next thing you realize is a cyclone of air in your face and a noise like an artillery battery in action. You are off down the field and before you realize it you are flying.

The plane circles the field a couple of times to get altitude and then starts on its sight-seeing trip over Maryville. Before you know it you are circling over the College and starting back. When you again come over the fair grounds, it has dwindled in size for you are now about fifteen hundred feet above the ground. Lt. Hyde throttles down the motor and gives you a good measure in your descent, by treating you to a few nose spins, wing turns, and "falling leafs". By the time you have figured out whether the earth is above you or below, you are quietly sitting at the starting place and the mechanic is helping you out of your seat.

The first person to make flight yesterday was John W. Price, Jr., Peck Gex, E. T. Hutchison, Warren Spoor, Lt. Neely of the Balloon Corps, and Miss Mary Rose Brady, also made the trip.

The first passenger this morning, and the second lady, was Miss Ruth Reuillard. "I wasn't a bit frightened," said Miss Reuillard, "all I could do was giggle." James F. Young, 66 years old, a farmer living about seven miles west of Maryville, was the second passenger. Others who went were Simeon Wright, J. E. Cottrell and Ray Baublitts.

SOLDIER BOY THROWN FROM MOTORCYCLE AND INJURED

Tony Terra of Balloon Company Has Collar Bone Broken—Accident at Corner of Seventh and Main

Tony Terra, one of the soldier lads of the balloon company, received a fractured collar bone and severe bruises and scratches about 7 o'clock last night when he was thrown from a motorcycle.

The accident occurred at the corner of Seventh and Main streets. Terra made a turn on his motorcycle at an acute angle in order to avoid colliding with a motor car and upset the motorcycle, hurling him to the pavement. He was rushed to the Physicians and Surgeons building where he was given medical aid by Dr. Frank Wallis.

The injured boy is resting nicely at a tent on the fair grounds where he was removed after having medical attention. Capt. McKinley, commanding officer, stated that Terra would be sent to Omaha tomorrow.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Wallis, Jr., have leased a suite of rooms at the W. A. Miller residence on South Main street, and will be at home there after the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Miles left this morning for Rock Port to spend the week end with relatives.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you never will succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has no equal as a blood cleanser, scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store and get on the right treatment to-day. If you want special medical advice, address Medical Director, 49 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

FAMOUS PEACE TREATIES

By H. IRVING KING

THE PEACE OF WESTPHALIA, 1648.

A Religious Upheaval That Lasted for Almost a Lifetime.

This gigantic conflict known as the Thirty Years' war was the longest war that has afflicted mankind, at least since the dawn of modern history; though that series of wars between France and England which extended from 1338 to 1453 is sometimes inaccurately referred to as the "Hundred Years' War."

The Thirty Years' war is often called a religious war, but it was a war in which religion was made the handmaid of politicians and the excuse of ambitious princes; the mightiest kingdom on the Protestant side was the Catholic nation of France, swayed by Cardinal Richelieu, and the Lutheran elector of Saxony did not hesitate to ally himself with the oppressor of the Bohemian Protestants.

First Overt Act of the War.

The story that the first overt act of war arose from two soldiers of different nationalities approaching a well to get a drink and getting into a fight as to who should first have the bucket, Tassoni, the Italian poet, has embalmed in his mock-heroic poem, "The Rape of the Bucket"—if he did not invent it. At any rate the stage of Europe was set for war and war came.

In May of 1618 the Bohemian Protestants rose in rebellion and the conflagration rapidly spread over continental Europe. Men were born, grew to manhood and died knowing no world but a world at war. A man of fifty could only remember that it was before he attained his majority that there had been no war; war had come to seem the normal state of the world. In this war were made the military reputations of Gustavus Adolphus, king of Sweden, Tilly, Wallenstein, Turenne and Conde. Central Europe was the battleground and the fortunes of war favored first one side and then the other. It would take volumes to detail the campaigns and battles of this war and its shifting politics. In the long run the Protestant side, through the fighting power of the Swedes and the might of Catholic France, got the best of it.

Meantime Europe was becoming utterly exhausted in men, money and commerce and industry. The pope suggested negotiations for a peace and in 1641 Louis XIII of France signed the preliminaries for a conference. But Cardinal Mazarin, who had succeeded Richelieu upon the death of that great statesman, did not desire peace until he had further humbled some of the Catholic powers, especially Spain.

Peace Delegates Met at Munster.

However, three years after Louis had signed the preliminaries peace delegates met at Munster. The congress accomplished nothing, the delegates spending their time in squabbles over matters of precedence and etiquette. It was hard work to get them to enter a common council chamber for fear one envoy would enter the room before the other, or to sit at anything but a round table for fear one should sit at the head of it. Their retainers fought in the streets for the right of way. The conference was removed to Osnabruck with like results. The war still going on, the fluctuations of battle caused a fluctuation of demands on the part of the envoys. The house of Austria split in two, the emperor desiring the peace for which all central Europe was clamoring, but Spain refusing to treat.

Finally in October of 1648, after four years of negotiation, the treaty known as the Peace of Westphalia was signed at Munster. This treaty put an end to the period of so-called religious wars and also to the supremacy of the house of Austria in Germany. France and Sweden were the principal beneficiaries, the latter receiving large German possessions with three votes in the diet, as well as an indemnification in money. France was confirmed in the possession of Verdun, Toul and Metz and most of Alsace. Germany was left in a horrible state materially; but had won liberty of conscience and a promise that laws, taxes and peace or war should be decided upon only by a free assembly of all the "estates" of the empire.

Germans Retain Haughty War Spirit in Industry and Trade

By Alfred G. Anderson

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—So far from being pleased with the influx of sorely needed foreign goods as the result of lifting the blockade, German industrial men are raising the cry for government prohibition of foreign merchandise imports, or a protective tariff that will keep the merchandise out of Germany.

The same industrial men, incidentally, seize every opportunity to put in a claim for German equality in the rest of the world's markets. It is a case of Germany for the Germans and the rest of the world for the Germans as well.

Hans Goslar, an economic expert, writing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, tries to explain where the shoe pinches, so to speak, by taking American shoes as typical of the "distress" the removal of the blockade will bring upon Germany.

Herr Goslar, dexterously ignoring the cry of unshod millions of his countrymen, purports to be exceedingly worried by large quantities of American shoes said to be stored in neutral countries, awaiting shipment to Germany, where, he admits, they can be sold considerably cheaper than German shoes. This sounds plausible, considering that German shoes, at present, cost anywhere from $60 to $100 the pair. Herr Goslar writes:

"The consequence of importing American shoes on a large scale would be that our shoe factories, which operate at heavier expense and at present under great difficulties, must close and throw their tens of thousands of workmen on the street.

"Our efforts, therefore, must be aimed at importing leather instead of shoes and thus enable our factories to give German workers employment by manufacturing shoes at home.

"If we apply the principle of shoes and leather to other important industries it is evident that we must endeavor first of all to procure raw materials from abroad. Manufactured goods, generally speaking, we can import only when they do not harm domestic industries by competition."

If the idea has struck Herr Goslar at all that his tens of thousands of German shoeworkers, instead of being "thrown on the street," might very well be employed in turning out German shoes and still be wearing cheaper American shoes until the first batch of the home product can be put on the market, he carefully conceals it. Nor does it occur to him that an immediate lowering of the cost of living through foreign imports tends to reduce wages to a reasonable basis and generally cut the German cost of production, making German competition in the home market as well as abroad possible as soon as Germany has the goods to sell.

"The textile industry in unoccupied Germany views the future with apprehension," sighs an Essen correspondent of the Deutsche Tages-Zeitung.

The Essen man records regretfully the passing of the demand for German paper cloth and other war fabrics because the merchants can now obtain unlimited quantities of real "peace-time" textiles. Suits, cloth and silks of English and French origin can be had in abundance, at fair prices, much to the delight of the consuming public. But the Essen correspondent fears that England is determined to dominate the German textile market and therefore will withhold raw materials from German manufacturers.

There are other Germans, however, who take a less pessimistic view of the ended blockade, for instance, the wholesale merchants of Frankfort on the Main, who are planning a huge "commercial peace demonstration" in the form of an international exhibition of imports, to be held in October. The entente as well as neutral countries, according to plans, will be invited to exhibit.

Another optimist, who probably expresses official Germany's viewpoint, is Herr Oeser, Prussian minister of communications, who, addressing the Prussian assembly, manifested unqualified delight at the prospect of well-stocked store shelves and lower prices.

The first thing that struck Herr Oeser about the new order of things was the probability of the German government releasing for public consumption vast supplies of commodities that have been held in reserve for the German army and navy. Among other things these supplies include 45,000,000 yards of cloth, enough to furnish new suits for several million Germans.

The industrial barons, who would have the people wear rags and walk on their uppers until German factories have converted imported raw materials into finished articles, will in all probability find a rather indifferent audience.

Stop and Think

For one moment why you stay in the East, and pay big interest or high rent when you can go west and soon own a farm of your own.

The West offers greater opportunities to any man than the East and especially to the poor man or man of reasonable means. I started in this land business last fall and have made a success of it by doing an honest business and by selling on reasonable commissions. My business has grown until I have had to have a partner, so Mr. Newt Morgan of Parnell, Mo., is going in with me. I have sold three thousand six hundred acres of land; have just closed a deal on one thousand and fifty acres at forty-five thousand dollars.

This has been the dryest year ever known to the oldest settlers and yet it is wonderful to see what crops we have raised. Most of the corn will make 20 to 30 bushels to the acre. We have had plenty of rain since the third of July and all late crops will be good. I am located at Carpenter, Wyo., in the southeastern corner of the State and have lots of land listed with me for sale now. I have farms of all sizes from one hundred acre farms to five thousand acre ranches and I know I can save any man money that wants to buy a farm or ranch. So don't fail to see me before buying. I have sold eleven thousand six hundred dollars worth of hogs since last October. I fattened them from the corn that I raised last year on one hundred and thirty-five acres. My last car load of sixty-two head brought four thousand and two dollars. I now have nine hundred and sixty acres of land. When I left Maryville, Mo., three years ago last October I was not worth five hundred dollars, today I am worth at least twelve thousand dollars. Now judge for yourself whether this is a good country to make money in or not. Then come and have a talk with me at the Nodaway County Fair and see samples of what we have raised this year, then make up your mind to come back with me and buy a farm or ranch and you will make the best move that you ever made in your life. For further information se me at the Fair August 11 to 16.

JUDGING EVENTS A BIG ATTRACTION LAST NIGHT

Immense Crowd Surpasses Afternoon Attendance — High Class Entries and Entertainment Drawing Card

The record breaking crowd of yesterday afternoon was surpassed at the fair grounds last night and according to Judge Hancey the largest number of people who have ever been within the grounds were present at 9 o'clock. Every seat in the grandstand was filled, and those who were unable to secure places there crowded the fence along the entire home stretch. Within the track, cars were parked in a solid bank back 50 yards from the fence.

The program last night was in accord with the high class bill which the management has been offering during the week.

The first event on the horse judging bill last night was the three-year old harness class. Billy Lee, owned by James Tapp, of Savannah was awarded the blue ribbon with Miss Emma, owned by Colonel Mundy of Mound City second. There were three horses entered in this event, but shortly before the judging, Bess Frolic, owned by J. W. Elliosn, of Savannah was sold and was scratched from the list.

In the five-gait event Regina Chief owned by James Tapp was first, Red Wing, Dr. Stiner of St. Joseph, second, and Bugle Boy, Colonel Mundy, third.

The runabout event attracted considerable interest. Marion Bleese, owned by James Tapp was first, Bugle Boy, owned by Colonel Mundy was second, and Red Wing owned by Dr. Stiner was third.

Following the judging events, Billy Lee, the educated high school horse owned by J. H. Tapp, of Savannah, was again exhibited. Although the exhibition was given late, many interested persons remained to see the work of the famous three-year-old. Without the band muise, he went through his various acts of marching, pivoting, turkey trotting and waltzing.

Charles Schrader, of Savannah was in charge of the judging event slast night, and in addition to these features the regular acrobatic entertainment was given.

HENRY FOR GET 6 CENTS DAMAGES FROM THE TRIBUNE

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 15—Attorneys for the Chicago Tribune, it was considered certain today, will accept without a contest, the verdict of six cents damages awarded Henry Ford by the jury, which heard a prolonged and bitterly fought Ford-Tribune suit. No motions or appeals were made after a verdict was returned.

Mount Clemens, Aug. 15.—A jury last night awarded Henry Ford 6 cents damages against the Chicago Tribune for calling him an anarchist.

At 8 o'clock last night Bailiff Kelley telephoned Judge Tucker that the jury was ready to report.

The jury, which for three months has been hearing testimony and arguments in the million dollar libel suit, was locked up at 9:55 a. m.

Judge James G. Tucker had instructed the jury that "the right of fair comment is expected in the case of Mr. Ford, because his position as a great employer of labor and entry as a propaganist into the discussion of the preparedness question made him a public character.

The judge held that a newspaper has no greater privileges in making comment than has an individaul.

The jury was instructed further to dismiss the case against the Solomon News company which, on a purely technical charge that it distributed in Michigan 208 copies of the Tribune issue of June 23, 1916, containing the alleged libelous editorial headed "Ford is an Anarchist," was made a co-defendant.

The court room was crowded while the judge was charging the jury.

The judge instructed that plaintiff's charges of pro-Germanism against the Tribune and of a selfish interest in advocating intervention in Mexico, had not been proven and the jury need not consider it.

Some Recent Land Deals Total $75,100.

Several farms have been changing hands recently at good prices. On Friday, S. E. Jobe of Guilford sold his farm of 70 acres near Barnard to I. C. Roelofson at $120 per acre. Possession will be given March 1 next year Frank Jobe now occupies this farm.

About ten days ago, Wayne Davidson sold his 200 acre farm near Bedison to Geo. W. Cole consideration being $135 per acre. Davidson bought the John McKee farm of 160 acres southeast of here Saturday consideration being $200 per acre.

A week ago Archie Hubbell purchased the Guy Ridlon 40 acres at $155 per acre.—Barnard Bulletin.

ST LOUIS RAILWAY MEN ASK WAGE INCREASE.

Union Files Brief with State Public Service Commission; Say Pay Is Insufficient

Jefferson City, Aug. 15.—The brief for the St. Louis street car men's union asking for an increase in wages has just been filed with the State Public Service Commission by Edward W. Foristel, attorney for the union.

The brief was to have been filed last week, but was delayed because of the mass of evidence to be prepared. Chairman Busby of the commission says it will be several days before the finding of the commission will be announced.

The brief says that the receiver, Rolla Wells, has admitted the truth of the evidence submitted and the contention of the men in regard to living costs, and that there only remains for the commission to determine the amount of the wage award and the question of time and a half for overtime. Attorneys for the receiver did not subscribe to all the contentions of the men on the points at the hearing in St. Louis last week.

The brief declares that every man is entitled to a living wage and that bare allowance is not enough. There must be sufficient for recreation, education and culture, the brief says.

The brief says the men are not demanding a straight eight-hour day, but are asserting their right to such a day. They are willing for the present to work longer hours, the brief says, but they assert that their pay is insufficient for the present long hours.

The brief gives an elaborate tabulation of wages and living conditions. It is said that there are more than 80,000 members of affiliated labor organizations in St. Louis who, with their families, furnish more than half the revenue of the United Railways, and that these will not complain if fares are raised to give the carmen sufficient wages.

AN ARTIFICIAL COAL SHORTAGE IN ST. LOUIS.

United States District Attorney Hensley Says Operators Will Attempt To Boose Prices.

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—The coal operators in this city and nearby districts are attempting to create an artificial shortage, so that any price demanded of consumers this winter will be paid, is the opinion of United States District Attorney Hensley.

Hensley says he is conducting an investigation and, if disclosures warrant, drastic action will be taken.

"I have received many complaints from people who say they have been unable to have coal delivered, although they bought it some time ago," Hensley continues. "My inquiry among the coal mines, as far as it has gone, has shown that many of them are idle. The condition generally has made me believe that an attempt is being made now to create an artificial shortage of coal."

Hensley says that an investigation of high rents in this city, with rentals steadily advancing, had concinced them that real estate dealers and property owners have got together to obtain higher rentals.' He says this angle of his investigation would be gone into thoroughly.

The district attorney says that none of his investigations have progressed to a point where warrants could be issued, but that several conditions that apparently warranted drastic action had come to his attention. Some of these conditions might not be under his jurisdiction, Hensley says.

Victor Huço for Japanese Readers.

The works of Victor Hugo have been translated into Japanese, to be published in a monthly series of 12 volumes beginning with June. "The translators," says the Herald of Asia, "include literary men of known standing, whose names are a guarantee of conscientious work. Many of the great French author's works have already been translated into Japanese, one of these, "Les Miserables," having been dramatized by the late Genichiro Fukuchi; but this is the first time a translation of Hugo's complete works has been attempted. The appearance of the new publications will confer a great boon upon the public, who evince a strong hunger for inspirations of the sort supplied by the illustrious French author.

Everybody Agrees With Us Nisco Spreader Is Best

Since we began telling in the public press about the Nisco Manure Spreader, our store has been a central point of interest with farmers for miles around.

And to a man, they all agree that the "Nisco" is the most practical spreader they ever saw. Even men who have used other spreaders for years, quickly concede the superiority of the "Nisco."

Now, this is very gratifying to us because we took the Nisco Agency only after personal investigation, and this unanimity of approval confirms our good judgment. There isn't a doubt that the will handle manure—fresh or stored—easily, economically and efficiently. A chain conveyor carries the manure to two cylinders, revolving one over the other, where it is thoroughly fined and pulverized. Then, swiftly revolving steel paddles distribute this fine manure over a strip wider than the wheel base of the machine itself—actually across three corn rows. The "Nisco" will spread 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18 loads per acre according as the feed lever is set and do it evenly. It is built low; mounted on wide tire wheels, and strong enough from kingbolt to drive wheels to stand steady hard service for a lifetime. Never clogs nor strains a team unduly.

First Wide-Spreading Spreader Ever Built

Leads now as it did when first invented 17 years ago. The first machine to embody the wide-spreading feature.

We've An Interesting Book To Give You

"Helping Mother Nature." This book is valuable. Tells fertility facts you never dreamed of. Gives suggestions about the care and use of manure that it will pay you to follow out. Don't miss your copy—ask when you come in—it's waiting.

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR THIRTY YEARS

"Tanlac Is Grandest Medicine On Earth" Says Kansas City Woman.

"For the first time in thirty years" said Mrs. M. Buckingham, residing at 2408 Kensington avenue, Kansas City, Missouri, in an interview, recently, "I am able to eat without suffering afterwards, and I can't sit down to the table without feeling thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Mrs. Buckingham is the wife of W. J. Buckingham, the well known carriage and auto maker. He has been with the Russell Carriage Company for twenty-three years. Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham have lived in Kansas City for more than thirty years and are highly respected by all who know them.

"What I would eat caused me pain," she continued, "and if I went without eating there was an awful gnawing sensation in my stomach, so I just suffered nearly all the time. The gas on my stomach affected me so that I could hardly breathe and my heart acted so peculiar that I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble. I could not rest and would get so nervous I did not know what to do. At times I was so bad off that I should have been in bed and just dragged around at my work. I was so dizzy I could scarcely keep my balance and couldn't stoop over without falling.

"Well, nothing ever helped me except just for the time being, until I began taking Tanlac and that's saying a good deal for it seems to me I had tried everything. For a while I thought Tanlac was going to disappoint me, too, for I never felt much better until I had finished my third bottle, but since that time I have improved rapidly. I can eat just anything now and since my food digests properly and the gas has stopped forming on my stomach I never have have palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath or a pain. My nerves are almost normal and my housework is no longer a burden, but a pleasure to me. Really, I am feeling better than I have since my troubles began and I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine on eaarth."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Carter Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. Smith, and in Hopkins by Hopkins Drug Co."

Watch It Grow

A FORCE OF VITAL IMPORTANCE THAT IS GROWING, AND DEVELOPING A MARVELOUS MOMENTUM.

Advertising Has an Accumulative Effect that increases in value with every advertisement run. Your ad that appears today or tomorrow may make enough direct sales to much more than pay for it but its greatest value is the good will it is building up for you.

Big advertisers everywhere are more and more recognizing this factor and plan their advertising campaigns accordingly.

Before answering the question bear in mind that advertising is an investment—not an expense. It is an investment in the sure results of human nature. Some merchants advertise in a hit and miss fashion, never knowing exactly what they are doing and fool themselves by charging various and sundry donations to advertising. These are the merchants who say advertising doesn't pay. Then the other kind set aside a certain percentage of their gross sales—anywhere from 1½ per cent to 3 per cent—for advertising. They spend the appropriation wisely and consider their advertising too important to neglect. They would no more allow their advertising to stop than they would their insurance policy to lapse. These are the merchants who know advertising does pay and pays big.

Is this the reason for the ever increasing popularity among the merchants, of the DEMOCRAT-FORUM'S ADVERTISING SPACE? It goes into the homes of 3500 people every evening, the great majority of these homes being in these merchants trade territory. AND THIS IS AN A. B. C. CIRCULATION. IT IS ONE OF THE EIGHTEEN MISSOURI PAPERS WHO OFFER TO ITS ADVERTISERS A GUARANTEED AND AUDITED A. B. C. CIRCULATION. This fact alone means a great deal to the shrewd merchant who is investing in advertising space.
